

U. S. Again Invited To Participate In Inquiry Into Germany's Finances; Rejects Restricted Plan

Ask Fall To Appear Before The Committee

WASHINGTON, December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Albert R. Fall, former secretary of the interior, has been invited by the public lands committee to appear before it in its investigation of the leasing of the Teapot Dome naval reserve to the Sinclair interests.

The invitation was extended yesterday after the committee had heard testimony from several witnesses regarding Mr. Fall's personal financial status. Inasmuch as this evidence was admitted to the record, the committee members decided the former secretary should be given an opportunity to make a statement if he so desired.

The committee heard considerable conflicting testimony about Mr. Fall's financial affairs when it resumed its hearing into the leasing of the reserve, which was terminated while he was in charge of the interior department. Carl G. Magee, a New Mexico editor, said he observed considerable improvements on Mr. Fall's ranch at Three Rivers last August, although the former secretary had told him in 1920 that he was "broke," and could not keep up the property. William Harris, owner of land adjoining the Fall ranch, on the other hand, testified that some of these improvements had been made several years ago and J. T. Johnson, foreman of a land and cattle company, which is headed by Mr. Fall, declared expenditures for improvements on the property had declined during the last three years as compared with the preceding five.

No Trace of Missing Pilot

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—The fate of Claire K. Vance, air mail pilot, who disappeared yesterday after leaving San Francisco, to fly to Reno, Nev., remained unknown early today and preparations were made at the air mail field here and at Reno for sending out planes to search the snow-clad Sierras in the vicinity of Colfax, where he last was reported seen.

Vance was due at Reno at 4:00 o'clock yesterday afternoon. When he failed to appear, a search was instituted and continued unsuccessfully throughout the night. Air mail officials expressed fear that Vance had been forced down, either by inclement weather, engine trouble or a mishap, and is marooned on some desolate stretch of mountainous territory covered with the first heavy snowfall of the season.

Rumored as an expert flier, Vance has had several narrow escapes in his flights, but heretofore he always has notified air mail service officials promptly after accidents.

Progressives Are Absent As Senate Republicans Organize

ANTHONY SCHARFENBERGER
GARTEHAGE, Ohio, Dec. 1.—More money than he ever had seen before.

And, oh, how good it looked to a coal truck driver! Just think, there was $1,500 in greenbacks and $700 in checks—$2,200 in all—in that grip.

Anthony Scharfenberger found it on Springfield pike as he was coming back to town after a delivery in the country.

But badly as he needed it, Anthony—to everybody hereabouts he is just plain Tony—decided to look around for the loser.

He found him in the person of Charles Rice, an oil company manager. And to him Tony surrendered his find.

The question of the election of a president of the senate did not come before the conference which, adhered to the plan to proceed to the assumption of the office as president pro tem without the necessity of a formal election. He will call the senate to order at the opening session Monday.

Senator Curtis, of Kansas, was elected vice chairman of the conference, and party whip, and Senator Wadsworth, of New York, again was selected as secretary. Senator Lodge was authorized to appoint a committee on committees.

Party candidates for all senate offices except that of president pro tem, were selected as follows: Secretary, George A. Sanders; sergeant-at-arms, David S. Barry; and chaplain, the Rev. Dr. J. J. Muir.

Members of the progressive bloc who did not attend the conference, were Senators La Follette, of Wisconsin, the recognized leader who is confined to his home by illness; Norris, Nebraska; Brookhart, Iowa; Francis, North Dakota, and Lund, North Dakota.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, and six others also were absent.

Drive On Loan Sharks

KANSAS CITY, MO., December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—The filing of a $100,000 damage suit in federal district court here yesterday by John N. Rhodes, a Kansas City, Kans., switchman, against seven men who, Rhodes alleges, conspired to extort usurious money from him, is a nationwide legal attack upon alleged "loan sharks," according to Anthony P. Nugent, attorney for the plaintiff.

Nugent also is counsel for 200 other railroad employees who allege that they have been victimized by loan companies. He asserted that injunction and damage suits would be filed in various federal courts throughout the United States in an effort to reach the "higher up."

Rhodes' petition asks $50,000 actual and $50,000 punitive damage for alleged loss of health attributable to worry induced by a conspiracy of loan companies whom he charged with forcing him to pay usurious interest by threatening to cause him to lose his job.

McCray May Be Asked To Resign As Governor

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—While arrangements were being made today regarding the proceedings attending the formal surrender of Governor McCray on indictments returned yesterday by the Marion county grand jury, charging embezzlement, forgery and larceny, preparations were being made by state Republican leaders for a meeting to consider the situation brought about by the action of the grand jury.

Clyde B. Wall, Republican state chairman, stated last night that a meeting of party leaders of the state would be held here the latter part of next week to discuss the McCray matter. Mr. Wall declined to say if the question of whether the executive should be asked to resign would be brought up at the meeting, declaring he would rather not make an announcement at this time.

The eight indictments which were returned after the grand jury had been in deliberation since the first week in October, set out the following charges:

Embezzlement of $155,000 from the state board of agriculture.

Embezzlement of $50,000 from the Discount and Deposit State Bank at Keokuk, Ind., of which the governor was president until recently.

The larceny of a check for $10,000 drawn by the treasurer of state.

The embezzlement of $10,000 issued by the treasurer of state from the Discount and Deposit State Bank.

Making a false statement used to obtain credit from a large number of banks.

Issuance of three fraudulent checks. Passing of forged promissory notes on various banks.

Forgery of notes and the obtaining of credit by the use of forged and counterfeit notes.

The governor in a brief statement last night following his indictment, asked the public to withhold judgment in his case until the charges have been heard in open court.

May Mean Cheaper Fertilizer To Farmers

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1933)

WASHINGTON, November 30.—Bills have been drafted at the Department of Agriculture which, if passed by Congress and Henry Ford, may mean cheap fertilizer for the American farmer at an early date.

Secretary Wallace said today he had been studying two plans for the operation of Muscle Shoals and that one provided for government operation and the other for several amendments to the Ford offer. It is intended to introduce the amendments to the Ford proposal first in an effort to reach an agreement, failing of which, government operation is the natural alternative.

The program which has not yet been submitted to President Coolidge by the Department of Agriculture, would provide for the separation of the Muscle Shoals proposition in two parts, the one relating to power being placed in the regular lease, and the other part would provide for a contract whereby in return for certain guarantees concerning the production of fertilizer the government would permit a cheaper rate of power to be charged. This in effect would be a subsidy to whoever operated the fertilizer plant.

There are other changes in the plan which Mr. Ford had but judging by his expressions in the past, the experts here say he ought to find the amendments acceptable. The whole question turns on intent. If Henry Ford is sincere, the plan is a good one.

Political Leaders Caucus To Discuss Candidates

HURON, S. D., December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—The Republican, Democrat and farmer-labor party leaders met in caucuses here today to discuss their choices of candidates and the more important planks of their platforms with a view to arranging affairs for the state proposition conventions at Pierre Tuesday to finish business in one day.

A struggle between adherents of President Coolidge and Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, will feature the Republican proposal convention, it is indicated.

At the county proposition, a dispute arose in the Democratic party over the number of votes obtained by Henry Ford and William Gibbs McAdoo, supporters of both the manufacturer and the former cabinet member claiming a preponderance of delegates to the state Democratic convention. Several prominent Democrats who favor the nomination of McAdoo are known to be opposed to any amalgamation with the third party, but a large group of Ford supporters are working openly for a compromise slate.

In this hope they were joined by the Ford following in the former-labor ranks and in many quarters the hope is expressed that some basis for fusion between the two parties will be discovered before the Pierre conventions.

Harrison to Go On Trial Monday

COLUMBUS, O., December 1.—Trial of Dwight Harrison, deposed vice president, secretary and general counsel of the R. L. Dullings Company, of Ohio, is scheduled to begin in common pleas court Monday before Judge Robert L. Duncan. The trial has been postponed several times.

The Franklin county grand jury jointly indicted Harrison and William J. G. Benham, former president of the company, on charges of "making a false and wilfully exaggerated statement as to the ownership of corporate property."

When arraigned September 21, Harrison entered a plea of not guilty.

McCray May Follows Husband

Mrs. McCray (above), of San Francisco, who succeeded her husband, the late John H. McCray, as congressman from the first California district, is expected to be tendered the leadership of the house labor committee. Nolan held that chairmanship several terms. Below is Mrs. Nolan's little daughter.

Confesses To Theft of Stamps

WASHINGTON, December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—A confession that he has systematically robbed the post office department of stamps valued at approximately $75,000 after nearly twenty-five years in its service, has been obtained, according to federal officials from Herman C. Davis.

Davis is at liberty under $5,000 bond, fixed yesterday by United States Commissioner George H. MacDonald after he had signed the confession and offered restitution in part.

In his sworn statement, he admitted having planned the thefts carefully and carried them out for four years.

His work on a committee charged with destroying damaged stamps returned to the department, the confession asserts, enabled him to take them and then swear to their destruction.

Cleveland Held Responsible

CLEVELAND, O., December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—The appellate court in a decision today repudiated the theory advanced by the city of Cleveland that it was responsible for the injuries suffered by a 12-year-old boy, Mary Forrester, two years ago when she was crushed beneath a police emergency car.

The court, reversing the common pleas court, held that the city was not liable for the injuries suffered by the boy.

The program which has not yet been submitted to President Coolidge by the Department of Agriculture, would provide for the separation of the Muscle Shoals proposition in two parts, the one relating to power being placed in the regular lease, and the other part would provide for a contract whereby in return for certain guarantees concerning the production of fertilizer the government would permit a cheaper rate of power to be charged. This in effect would be a subsidy to whoever operated the fertilizer plant.

Daugherty Preparing Opinion on Craig

WASHINGTON, December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Attorney General Daugherty, in preparing his recommendation to President Coolidge on the legality and merits of a pardon for Charles L. Craig, comptroller of New York City, also will determine at the request of the president whether the case comes under the head of civil or criminal contempt.

Daugherty is expected to present his opinion next week, in ample time to prepare the president for the action before the sixty-day sentence imposed by Federal Judge Mayer on Mr. Craig is effective.

Legal opinion appears to be about equally divided as to the president's authority to grant a pardon in a civil contempt case, but less doubt is expressed over the legality of executive clemency if the sentence comes under the head of criminal contempt.

Mr. Coolidge is described as being inclined to regard the Craig case as one of criminal contempt.

Reparation Commission Asks U. S. Participation

WASHINGTON, December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—The American government still is unwilling to participate in a restricted inquiry into German finances, and has so informed James A. Logan, American observer with the reparations commission in Paris.

The communication outlining the government's position was sent to Colonel Logan after he had informed the state department that the reparations commission, favored American membership on the two committees created by it to investigate and report on the state of German finances as related to the ability of that government to pay reparations.

These exchanges are described in diplomatic parlance, however, as "purely informal" and officials said today that so far no formal invitation for American participation had been received. For that reason state department spokesmen refrained from discussing Paris dispatches saying the United States had been "invited" to membership on the two new committees.

PARIS, December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—An invitation to the United States to appoint members to each of the two committees which are to investigate German finances has been forwarded to Washington by Colonel James A. Logan on behalf of the reparations commission.

According to information in reparations circles, the principal reason why the door was left open for the reparations committee for the American government was to be represented on the committee was that the French, British, Italian and Belgian governments were agreed that American money would be essential to carry out the reparations program.

The French premier, Raymond Poincaré, is declared did not expect Secretary of State Hughes to refuse so quickly the conditions insisted upon by France for the originally proposed inquiry into Germany's capacity to pay reparations. Poincaré had, though, it is said, that a period of negotiations would take place in which France would be prepared to go much further in the direction of the American views, providing some concessions were made regarding her debts to England and the United States.

The French premier is described as all the more ready now to bring the United States, either officially or unofficially into the two inquiries authorized. Along with the invitation sent Secretary Hughes by Colonel Logan was an inquiry if there would be any objection by Washington to the reparations commission inviting American financiers to participate in the investigation in case the government did not desire to designate members of the committee.

The fundamental reason for the anxiety to have American assistance, it is pointed out, is that any plan to restore the finances of the German republic must include the advance of a large sum, certainly $500,000,000 at the minimum. This amount would be raised in the various money markets of the world by public subscription and not provided by the allied governments. The idea expressed is that if American financiers were not represented on the committee, the (Continued on Page Three)

James J. Ross, Prominent Democrat, Passes Away

COLUMBUS, O., December 1.—In the death of James J. Ross, 63 years old, former chairman of the Franklin County Democratic Committee, one of the most prominent figures in the political life of Ohio, is removed. Mr. Ross died yesterday in his home here, of paralysis.

Mr. Ross was stricken January 7, this year, and was taken to Florida, where his condition improved. He returned to his home after a few months and suffered a second attack several weeks ago.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ruby M. Ross; a son, James Jr., aged 7; a daughter, Grace Louise, 15; one brother, William C. Ross, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Powers, Columbus. Private funeral services will be held at the residence, 61 Sherman avenue, at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning. Burial will be at Fredericktown, Ohio.

Mayor Found Not Guilty

CHARLESTON, W. VA., December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Mayor George S. Abbott, of Hinton, was found not guilty of charges of violating the prohibition laws by a jury in federal court which deliberated on his case for an hour last night. The mayor denied any knowledge of liquor found in his store. His attorneys argued that liquor found by detectives during a raid might have been planted by somebody hostile to him.

Trouble In Bunches For Holly Whitman

Trouble came thick and fast for Holly Whitman, owner of a soft drink establishment and restaurant at 718 Chillicothe street, yesterday when he was arrested, twice.

Whitman was first taken into custody by Probation Officer, Mr. Gilliland on a warrant issued from probate court charging him with contributing to the delinquency of Harry Rickey, 16 years old, son of Mrs. Thomas Rickey. The complaint came as a result of the police picking up the Rickey lad in an apparently intoxicated condition on Chillicothe street, near the Whitman establishment the night before. According to officials the youth claimed he and a companion bought their liquor at the Whitman place, but the accused strenuously denies the Rickey boy's statement. Whitman had scarcely been released on $300 bond for his appearance for trial next Tuesday when he was placed under arrest by state prohibition agents on a charge of possession of liquor and under his plea of guilty he was fined $400 and costs by Judge L. Rickey. He arranged to pay and was released. It developed that while Whitman was in probate court the dry agents raided his establishment and seized several bottles of liquor there. Whitman was represented in both courts by Attorney Horace L. Smith.

Salaries of New Boston Officials Increased

With the "dead line" only a few hours away, New Boston council met last night and passed an ordinance providing for an increase in salary for some village officials. Plans to grant all officials from the mayor down an increase fell through when some members of council kicked on voting for the legislation as it was first framed. When changes were made, refusing increases to the majority of the officials, the legislation was passed. Member W. J. Davis was the only member absent. Council met four times in an effort to pass the salary ordinance, but it was not until last night after the legislation had been given its third reading, that it finally passed. It is necessary to pass the salary ordinance fixing the salary of incoming officials thirty days before it takes effect. The ordinance provides for the following salaries after the first of the year: Mayor, $250 a year, as at present; clerk, $800 a year, no change; councilmen, $48 a year each, maximum allowed by general code, no change; treasurer, $240 a year, no change; marshal, $150 a year, an increase to $180 a year, or $15 a month; deputy marshal, $140, an increase of $10 a month from $130; collector, $30 a month, charged from contemplated $500 a year; street commissioner, $1,500, increase of $1,000 a year (no applicant could be obtained at the former salary); garbage collector, salary to be fixed later.

Gun User, Suspected "Stillers" Prowler, Landed By Police; Hearings Monday

There was no session of municipal court today on account of the absence of Judge McCall, who is in Columbus, and as a result all cases on the docket were continued until Monday for hearing.

Charles Watkins, 2nd man, arrested last night by the police for discharging firearms in the city limits, later secured his release on $25 bond for his appearance in court Monday. Watkins claims that he was firing to frighten a man who was prowling about his home. Joseph Sally, 74, and Thomas Sheets, 46, were the names given by the men arrested in a raid by the police yesterday afternoon in a house at 2325 Eighth street, which resulted in the finding of a crude whiskey-making outfit there, and I was seized together with several bottles of the finished product. The men are held pending trial in municipal court.

When Mrs. Gus Lipp, of Second street, heard glass break in her home, Friday evening, she became alarmed and summoned the police. Sergeant Don Miller responded, and in a search of the premises discovered John Glowe, a young man, who lives in the neighborhood, hiding under a bed in a room occupied by Mrs. G. D. Glowe, a cooper. Glowe was locked up, and he may be required to meet a charge of entering an inhabited dwelling.

Employees Tender Good Will Reception To Mr. And Mrs. G. D. Selby, J. J. Rarden

A good will reception, the first of its kind ever planned by employees, proved as successful as it was unusual last night when employees of the Selby Shoe Company held a most enjoyable social time in the factory restaurant in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Selby and J. J. Rarden. The occasion was also in honor of the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Selby, who is 47, and Mr. Rarden, who is 75. Much of the success of the program was due to the efficient work of the committee in charge, which did not leave a stone unturned to provide a program that would be interesting throughout.

The factory restaurant room was turned into a sparkling auditorium, which was crowded with employees. Nick J. Gallenstein, president of the committee, presided as chairman and opened the program with a short address, which follows: Mr. Geo. D. Selby, President of The Selby Shoe Co.

Greeting. "The employees of The Selby Shoe Co. have desired for some time to convey to you in some tangible form their sense of appreciation of the kindly co-operation and good-will which exists between the management and the ranks of this institution. In order to do this they have selected a committee to arrange this reception and to address these words to you as the founder and guiding spirit of this business. We have reasons to believe that harmony and a desire for co-operation exists in our ranks, which have been brought about largely by the efforts of the management to make our surroundings pleasant and profitable. We feel that we are fortunate in being part of an industrial organization that is guided in its course by one of high Christian character and ideals that we recognize in the life and work of our honored president."

Your interest in the welfare of your employees has brought about changes and improvements which mean a great deal to our pleasure and comfort during our working hours and the feeling of satisfaction we have as members of this organization. Our days of toil are spent in a plant kept safe, sanitary and cheerful; restaurant and lunch facilities are provided for our convenience; medical and dental attention for our health and comfort; life insurance and sick benefits for our aid in times of misfortune; and an recreation room and park dedicated to our pleasure and leisure hours. These and other blessings are indicative to us of the kindly attitude which exists on the part of the management, and we feel it is only proper that we should express to you our thanks and appreciation of the noble impulses that have prompted them. Mr. Selby, we extend to you and your good wife, and Mr. Rarden, our very best wishes. May you enjoy the sun and the breeze of life, and may you be spared for many years to continue an inspiration to us to employ our talents earnestly, to give the best service we have, and to carry forward the work you have so nobly instituted and guided, and of which we are all proud.

Signed on behalf of all the employees, by the officers of the organization formed to arrange and carry out the good will reception tendered to you and Mrs. Selby and Mr. Rarden on November 30th. This letter of greetings was drawn up and signed by Mr. Gallenstein as president, Daniel Phillips, vice president; Edna Weaver, secretary, and Dr. C. L. Ferguson, treasurer of the employees' organization in charge of the reception.

The first number was special dance in colonial costume by twelve little folks under the direction of Miss Dolores Mayer. The little folks executed their dance especially well, and were given enthusiastic applause.

Little Irene Extraordinary, black-face comedian, was the next number on the program. This little miss, distinctive in the extreme, was endorsed by the big audience, so pleased were they with her performance. A monologue and a singing stunt, with a fancy dance concluded her contribution to the program.

The Burtrum Quartette sang several selections. They are a well rounded musical organization, with ability to win an audience. Young Dave Scott proved his worth as a black-face artist, giving a singing and dancing group of numbers that brought real applause.

An instrumental trio, Rhodens, Wheeler and Wheeler played a number of selections that were well received. Maize and Franck, Sense and Nonsense, was the next number and proved a most popular one.

Following them, Barney Google, Sunshine and Arkhipe put on an act that was a real scream. Taking part were "Piggy" Burtrum, Irene Stone, Howard Delhotel and David Dick.

E. P. Price then presented Mr. and Mrs. Selby with a letter from the employees of the company, expressing their appreciation of the interest shown in the workers' welfare.

Miss Hazel Grimm presented Mrs. Selby with a beautiful basket of flowers, a birthday remembrance, and Mr. Price presented Mr. Rarden with a similar remembrance.

At the close of the program, ice cream and cake was served to the big crowd.

The general committee in charge was composed of: Nick J. Gallenstein, Ernest Clark, Dr. C. L. Ferguson, Miss Margaret Crabtree, Charles Knapp, Miss Edna Weaver and Hazel Grimm.

Promptly at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning Stanley G. Hopkins, manager of the Portsmouth Industrial Housing Company, in the presence of General Contractor Dennis Bricker and Architect Wesley Ridenour, turned over the first spadeful of dirt in the erection of seventeen four-apartment dwellings to be built on Rhodes avenue, Peebles addition, New Boston, for wire and nail mill employees of Portsmouth Works, Wheeling Steel Corporation. The general contract for the construction of the brick houses was left yesterday to Contractor Bricker, whose bid was considered the lowest and best of the number submitted.

The Housing Company Directors at a special meeting Friday afternoon at four o'clock awarded the contract. The signing of signatures on the dotted line Monday will complete the preliminary details after which the work is expected to move along at a rapid rate until the seventeen structures are up and ready for occupancy. The contract awarded provides for a complete structure, including plumbing, wiring, painting, sewer pipes, sidewalks, etc.

The site of the new houses will be on the north side of Rhodes avenue, west of West avenue, and just opposite the wire and nail mill. The site was recently purchased from the Peebles Realty Company.

Of the number of bids submitted only three were low and close. They were by Mr. Bricker, the Paul G. Williams Company and Charles V. Wertz. Other bidders were J. F. Warner, McCabe and Proctor, Peebles Realty Company, Bradley and Company, J. L. Joyner and Jones and Tallow, of this city, Manford-Wingard, of Tronton, Daniel Hunt Construction Company, Dayton; Foreman-Philman, Marietta, and P. W. Johnston, South Webster.

Engineers will be at work Monday running the lines for the seventeen houses and excavation will be started early next week.

Bud Stahler Moves Back

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. (Bud) Stahler will be pleased to learn that they are again making their home in Portsmouth. Mr. Stahler is a salesman for the Luxemeyer Company, of Cleveland, a wholesale hardware firm and he has been transferred to a Southern Ohio territory with headquarters in Portsmouth.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank the many friends, and especially Rev. Charles Reinhardt for his consoling words during the sickness and death of our father, Herman Rühninghake. Undertaker Hoffer, Carlyle-Labold employees for the floral offerings.

Johnson to Open Active Speaking Tour Soon

WASHINGTON, December 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Senator Alvin Johnson said he expected to begin an active speaking tour within a few weeks in the interest of his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination. A start may be made during the recesses of congress or in any event early in the new year.

The California speaker does not regard his Chicago speech "as the keynote" address of his campaign. That will be delivered later and will deal with President Coolidge's message to congress.

Heavy Gale Causes Damage

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF., December 1.—(By the United Press)—A heavy gale struck the San Francisco Bay region during the night with the following results: The 400-ton freighter Robert Gray, was blown into a breakwater at the old yacht harbor of 1915 exposition grounds in San Francisco Bay, where it was lashing furiously this morning with crew of 37 still aboard.

An army tug, the Leila Agard, was driven into cement pier and holed store in her side which may cause the vessel to sink. A pilot driver was blown adrift, crashing into a pier and doing heavy damage. Several barges were torn from their moorings. Many power and phone wires were broken and other minor damage done.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank our friends and neighbors who kindly assisted us in our sad bereavement of our dear husband and father, Wm. Vandivort. We also thank friends and school children of McDermott for their beautiful floral offering; also the choir, Rev. A. K. Murphy for his consoling words, and Undertaker Reeg for his efficient services.

THE GUMPS—CHECK, PLEASE

YOU KNOW TODAY IS THE FIRST OF DECEMBER SO I THOUGHT I WOULD REMIND YOU ABOUT YOUR PROMISE TO GIVE ME A CHECK.

WHAT PROMISE? WHAT CHECK?

LAST WEEK YOU TOLD ME TO SELECT A NICE CHRISTMAS PRESENT FOR EVERY ONE ON MY CHRISTMAS LIST AND YOU'D GIVE ME A NICE CHECK TO PAY FOR THEM.

JUST BECAUSE I SAID I MIGHT BE ABLE TO SPARE A LITTLE MONEY FOR YOU TO BUY CHRISTMAS PRESENTS WITH IS NO REASON WHY YOU SHOULD HOUND ME LIKE A HUNGRY LOAN-SHARK.

BUT YOU TOLD ME THAT YOU WOULD GIVE ME A CHECK THIS WEEK—I WANT TO SELECT MY PRESENTS BEFORE ALL THE NICE THINGS ARE GONE.

DON'T BE A FEMALE SHYLOCK—GIVE A GUY A CHANCE—MY BANKER TRUSTS ME—LOOK ME UP IN DUNN AND BRADSTREET—MY CREDIT IS GOOD—I'M NOT GOING TO LEAVE TOWN—YOU'LL GET YOUR MONEY BUT YOU DON'T HAVE TO ACT LIKE THE HARD-HEADED LAND-LORD IN A MELTDRA—DON'T PULL ANY OF THAT "PAY UP OR OUT YOU GO" STUFF ON ME.

SELECT TEAMS FOR COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN

Hustling Workers Ready To Begin Drive Tuesday

Beautifully studded with nails and carrying the slogan "Give Till It Hurts," the huge chest which is to stimulate giving in the Community Chest campaign which opens Tuesday, made its appearance on the gallin-street esplanade early Saturday. The chest is the gift of A. A. Macdonald, well known through the local Exchange Club.

Announcement of the personnel of the twenty-two teams that will start out next Tuesday to fill Portsmouth's Community Chest to the brim, was made at the booster meeting held at the Public Library Friday night, with Adam Frick, member of the executive committee, presiding. W. W. Gates is chairman of the budget commission, which will administer the fund of $500,000, which is to be raised next week.

The next meeting in the campaign will be held at the Elks Club Tuesday noon, when all workers will gather for luncheon. A feature of the program will be a demonstration put on by R. W. Anderson and H. B. Murray, one representing a prospect and the other a solicitor, presenting the arguments for and against the Community Chest.

Notices sent to the industries of the city read as follows:

Letter to the Industries
As you know there are those of us that are working laboriously to fill that our Community Chest will be filled during the coming week. This will make necessary that there be a contribution from as many as can be enrolled.

To the end that the Community Chest Drive may be completed during the coming week, we are writing to ask that there be formed an organization to solicit your employees. We shall appreciate very much that you look with favor upon this request and that we are favored with the support anticipated.

Yours Very Truly,
W. W. Anderson,
Edw. T. Reed,
Adam Frick.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.
Letters were also sent to a large number of prospects as follows:

You have perhaps been advised of the interest the committee has taken in organizing and getting ready for the Community Chest Drive during the coming week, at which time there must be a sum of $500,000 provided to fill the Community Chest.

We are just advising so that you may help along in this humanitarian work by sending in to the Community Chest, in care of the Chamber of Commerce, your donation for this worthy purpose.

Very truly yours,
THE COMMUNITY CHEST COMMITTEE.

The list of team captains and members was read by W. W. Anderson, of the executive committee.

Where Republicans May Meet

If the Republican National Committee decides to hold its 1924 presidential nominating convention in Cleveland, this is where the delegates will meet and choose their candidate. Photo shows an interior view of Cleveland's mammoth public auditorium. It has a seating capacity of 12,500, and facilities for accommodating a few thousand more. In addition, it has dozens of committee rooms where caucuses might be held.

Man Shot In Wrist ; Police Investigate

Police are investigating the shooting of William Bennett, of 2023 Gallia street, who sustained a bullet wound in his left wrist late last night, the gun play being staged in the East End. Bennett was removed to Mercy hospital, where the bullet was found to have fractured a bone in the wrist. Bennett at first refused to tell police how he was shot. First he said it was an accident, and that he did not know the man with the gun. Later he told police that the gun was in the hands of Marvin "Shorty" Workman, who conducts a soft drink parlor at Eleventh and Clay streets.

Police later talked to Workman about the shooting and he claimed that Bennett accidentally shot himself. With these conflicting versions to work on police are busy endeavoring to learn the real truth of the shooting.

SUIT AGAINST MACCABEES

COLUMBUS, O., December 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Allegation of its corporate authority was charged against the Fraternal Order of Maccabees in a suit filed in the state supreme court today by James K. Laddley, of Columbus, who seeks to restrain the organization from operating in Ohio, and to have a trustee appointed to protect the membership participating in the insurance system of the order.

A Barrister

Gladys Yennan, of Sioux City, Ia., believes she is the youngest woman ever admitted to practice in the federal courts. She is 23. Last June she was graduated with honors from the University of Iowa. She opened her office here October 10.

ALLIES TAKE OVER TOWN

MAYENCE, GERMANY, December 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Rioting at Bielefeld near Westphalia yesterday in which six persons were killed and a number wounded, caused the inter-allied high commission to take over the civil administration of the city and the French troops to disarm the local police and assume their duties.

A republic was proclaimed at Bielefeld on Thursday without disturbance, but yesterday crowds assembled before the city hall and the German police, who claim they had to fight their way out, fired, killing three persons outright. Three of the wounded died later.

The French announced that the separatist movement is progressing throughout the Palatinate.

Life Term for Assault

CINCINNATI, O., December 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—William Corcoran, 32, married, was sentenced to serve a life term in the Ohio State penitentiary by Judge Thomas H. Dwyer in criminal court today after he had pleaded guilty to an attack on an eight-year-old girl.

CATLETTSBURG MAN RUN DOWN BY MACHINE; INJURIES NOT SERIOUS

Pearl Howell, of Catlettsburg, Ky., sustained a severe scalp wound and bruises about the legs last night about 8:30 o'clock when struck and knocked down on Gallia pike, near the water works filtration plant, east of New Boston, by an automobile driven by Harlan Monroe, of Mayo avenue and Cherry street, Sciotoville. Howell was assisted to the nearby home of Max Gearhart, where Drs. T. H. McCann and A. B. Mills, of New Boston, attended him. Lynn's ambulance was called to remove the man to the hospital, where it was found that his injuries were not serious.

Howell was walking west on the pike accompanied by Harold Bennett, of Point Pleasant. Monroe was driving west on the pike with Lawrence Singleton in the Ford roadster with him. Monroe was keeping close to the right edge of the paved road, and the right front fender struck Howell and knocked him down. Monroe stopped and assisted in looking after the injured man.

Officers Hawkins and Amick from Portsmouth and Marshal Wm. Conley, of New Boston, investigated and found that no blame could be attached to Monroe for the accident as Howell was walking on the edge of the paved road.

Europe Must Pay War Debts, Says Gary

NEW YORK, December 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Cancellation of European war debts was characterized as "unthinkable" to the average American mind by Elihu Root, secretary of the United States, in a speech before the Senate today.

There is a strenuous agitation going on at present, he said, "in favor of cancellation of the foreign debts to the United States. From the viewpoint of the United States, the proposition would appear to be irrational and preposterous," he said.

"We remember," he asserted, "how urgent they were, how profuse, in promises, how grateful for accommodations. It is difficult to believe there is a change of sentiment."

He compared the German "scrap of paper" attitude toward treaties with proposals of foreign nations to ignore their financial obligations.

"There is reason to question the bona fides or even the sanity of these proposals," he said, "in favor of cancellation of the foreign debts to the United States. From the viewpoint of the United States, the proposition would appear to be irrational and preposterous," he said.

"We remember," he asserted, "how urgent they were, how profuse, in promises, how grateful for accommodations. It is difficult to believe there is a change of sentiment."

BRINGING UP FATHER

Home Burglarized While Family Sleeps

While the family slept, burglars entered and ransacked the home of John Harshorn, 2216 Grandview avenue, sometime after Friday midnight and made a successful get away with $23 in money, which was taken from a dresser drawer, according to a report received by the police this morning.

The intruders entered the house through a front window which was left unwatched and departed through a kitchen window.

Mr. Harshorn discovered the robbery early Saturday morning, shortly after he got up.

AUTO CLUBS WILL U RGE NEW MEASURE

Carrying out its adopted policy to endeavor always to point the way to a greater end in motoring, the National Motorists Association, with three hundred and seventy-four automobile clubs in its support, has announced its intention of urging before the coming Congress only such legislation as will solve the automobile problems of tomorrow as well as today, Secretary T. J. Coe of the Portsmouth Auto Club pointed out last night.

"The opportunity for our organization to prepare for the future of motoring is too great to waste in the enactment of temporary measures," declares Secretary Coe, in outlining the N. M. A.'s policy.

"The great trouble with the bulk of automobile legislation," he said, "is that it is not enacted until the need for it has largely passed. A new set of problems immediately arise, and the result is that motorism is confronted with a continuation of inadequate legislation."

ABE MARTIN On Our Bank Cashier Mortality

Mrs. Elton Bud has got a letter from her nephew in the West saying he'd like to come East in December if he wasn't afraid of outlaws. He can't tell any more where or when bandits are going to bust out or hold up, or swoop down on a blow us, an' yet people walk around with jewelry on an' money in their pockets just as unconcerned as if they didn't read the papers an' our bank cashier mortality is gittin' t' be awful. Folks go down town at night an' leave their homes settin' right in the front yard where anybody kin enter 'em. Tell Blinky tried t' buy an overcoat on thirty days' time yesterday, but the storekeeper refused him, sayin', "I know you're all right an' I'll be held up a dozen times in thirty days, an' then where'd I be?" Joe Moon's side is all bruised up from havin' revolvers poked agin it. He drives a buckster wagon an' some bandit is allus on t' seat with him. Late last night a woman Saturday mornin' told me wakin' along an' fell a poke in his back, an' turned an' fired, but it wuz an umbrella. Cashier Lester Kite is back at his post in the bank. He's still somewhat bleached an' hoarse from bein' in t' vault so long, an' t' handcuffs ain't been fittin' off his wrists yet, but there's lots o' little things he kin do about t' bank, such as turnin' people down an' watchin' out for strangers. Anyhow he don't need his hands as t' banks ain't got no money. T' doctors are still pickin' shot out o' t' president's back, but they expect t' git through this evenin' unless they turn him over. He's a little too slow movin' t' be a banker. He fully intended t' throw his hands up when he could git around t' it, but he didn't think fast enough. He says he'll prob'ly git a job in t' county treasurer's office when he gets back t' himself, an' give up tryin' t' be a banker. Blacksmith Al Moon, who has t' hand-cuff filin' contract with t' bank, is off duck shootin' on t' Kankakee, but is expected home t'night. Artie Lukens, treasurer o' t' Fairy Grotto, nicked t' actor, is still crossed over lookin' int' t' muzzies o' 45's. His eyes are stuck an' it may be some time before they're loosened up. Night Watchman Elmer New-comer, o' t' t' works, thought he heard some one tamperin' with t' safe Wednesday night, an' sure enough he got his legs full o' buckshot. Mort Benson, who wuz surprised while makin' up his payroll at t' Monarch Five and Ten, is still at home in a critical condition. T' corn cob t' bandits gagged him with swabs up when he got wet an' how t' git it out o' his mouth is now t' problem. They don't seem t' be no way o' copin' with t' crime wave. Jesse James never used t' shoot anybody less than wuz no way out o' it, but t' day's middle west bandit don't think no more o' a human life than he does a silver-plated watch.

Opening it, he unfolded a sheet of foolscap and handed it to the other. It was covered with writing, and as Anderson looked at it, he saw that the writing was made up of two names, written over and over again, the names being those of Hubert Stane and Eric Harcroft. At first the character of the handwriting of the two names were widely different, but presently the separate characteristics were blended with a distinct leaning towards those of Harcroft, though some of the characteristics of the earlier writing of Stane's name still survived, though at the bottom of the sheet only Harcroft's name was written, and that a dozen times. The policeman whistled as he studied it. "Where did you get this, Stane?" "I found it in a copy of Plato which Ainley had borrowed from me. It was returned before the forgery turned up, and that paper slipped out when I was going through my possessions after my arrest in Dartmouth. What do you make of it?" "It is perfectly plain what the meaning of it is," answered Anderson with conviction. "Whoever did this was blending two handwriting for some purpose or other, and the purpose is not difficult to guess."

Movie Star Victim of Burns
In Texas; Born In Ohio

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Dec. 1

—Martha Mansfield, leading woman in "The Warrens of Virginia," being filmed in and around San Antonio, died here today from burns. Her body will be sent to New York Saturday at the request of her mother.

Miss Mansfield, who was 23 years old, died at noon from the effects of burns received while at work on the film. The young actress had just finished the scenes in which she appeared and had retired to an automobile where her illusory colonial costume dress was accidentally ignited by a falling match.

She jumped from the car, screaming, in the east came to her rescue, and Wilfred Lytell, leading man, threw his heavy overcoat over her thus saving her face and neck. The fire was extinguished, but she received severe burns about the body. She was rushed to a hospital where she died less than 24 hours later, though announcement was given out late Thanksgiving Day by Elmer Clifton, director of the company, that her condition was not serious.

Miss Mansfield was born in Mansfield, O., and reared in New York. Since her entrance into moving pictures she has appeared opposite of some of the leading actors. She also had appeared on the vaudeville stage.

She first gained prominence in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," in which the two Barrymore brothers starred. She appeared with Eugene O'Brien in "The Perfect Lover." Recently she was seen in "Potash and Perlmutter." She was playing the part of Agatha Warren in the picture being filmed here.

The body will be accompanied home by Phillip Shore, a member of the cast.

Big Area Sought By
Audubons As Retreat
And Wild Life Resort

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—A plan for the purchase of a 100,000 acre tract in Louisiana adjoining the Rockefeller and Sage foundation with life sanctuaries in order to further protect the wild life of the section was made public today by T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the National Association of Audubon Societies.

Promoters of a hunting club now hold an option on the tract, but it is believed that its owner, E. A. McIlhenny, who made possible the establishment of the other sanctuaries, will readily agree to the association's plan, Mr. Pearson said.

In correspondence between Mr. Pearson and Mr. McIlhenny, the owner, is said to have been anxious to place the tract in sanctuary, but had not found means of finding funds for such a project and had accepted the hunting club idea, believing that with restrictions the wild life would get some measure of protection.

Steps On Needle,
Woman Hurt

Mrs. W. H. McGraw, of 2127 Seventh street, is recovering from the effects of having part of a needle embedded in her foot for several days, and pain of the operation necessary to remove it.

While preparing to retire, she stepped on a needle at her home, and in removing it, found it broken off. Not until pains continued to afflict the wound did Mrs. McGraw suspect that a portion of the needle was embedded in her foot. An x-ray at the Fowler laboratory disclosed the eye end of the needle embedded between the bones, and it was removed by Drs. Carl G. and Walter A. Brannan.

How To Relieve
Neuritis

If you want genuine, lasting relief from those nerve pains of neuritis, you must first restore the diseased nerves to sound, healthy condition. Neuritis is nerve inflammation brought on by colds, injuries, bruises or infectious diseases. It usually centers its attack about the shoulder or base of neck in the forearm, thigh or leg, and sometimes in the small of the back.

For real relief, procure a bottle of Nerve-Soothing Tablets from your druggist and take tablets before each meal. The result will amaze you. Never in your life have you used anything like these marvelous tablets.

Dona Nerve-Soothing Tablets contain no habit-forming drugs—no narcotics. They are harmless to everyone. Price $1.50. Sold in Portsmouth by Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, 606-608 E. & Tenth Sts., and 222-224 Broadway, San Francisco.—Advertisement.

ONE OF ALFRED A. KROPP'S ONE HE A SERVANT

BEGIN HERE TO-DAY
Hubert Stane rescues Helen Yardley from a canoe traveling toward a dangerous waterfall. Stane is a discharged convict, the volunteers to return Helen to her uncle's camp, Hubert Stane is a governor of the Hudson Bay Company. They are camping near a northern post of the company. Gerald Ainley is in love with Helen. Stane and the girl flee on a raft from a forest fire and settle in a deserted cabin they find on the trail.

When someone prowling outside the cabin at night, in the morning they follow the marks of moose-casied feet in the snow.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
As she cried the words she pointed over his snow-laden shoulder, and Stane, looking in the direction indicated, saw that which made his heart leap. A dog team was coming up the lake, with a man on snowshoes packing the trail in front.

"Who can it be?" asked the girl in some excitement.

"That's the cabin—for a certainty!" answered Stane, conscious of a sudden relief from the anxiety which the morning had brought.

"Then," answered the girl quietly, "you wait to welcome him, whilst I go and prepare a meal."

She passed into the cabin, whilst Stane walked down to the shore of the lake. The traveler whoever he was, was making directly for the cabin, and watching, Stane saw that he walked wearily as if he had come far, or was suffering from some weakness. It was quite an appreciable time before he saw Stane standing to welcome him, and when he did so, he gave a joyous shout. Stane answered the hail, and a few minutes later when the man halted his dogs he saw that he was mistaken in concluding the newcomer was the owner of the cabin, for he was greeted in the winter dress of the Northwest Mounted Police.

"No," he is an old Oxford acquaintance of mine, who is now in the Mounted Police."

At that moment a whip-stroke hampered at the cabin door, and a second later Trooper Anderson entered. For a moment he was a little taken aback by the girl's appearance, then Stane made the introduction.

"Miss Yardley," Mr. Anderson said. "Miss Yardley," the policeman cried. "Are you Sir James Yardley's niece, who was lost a few months ago?"

"The very same," answered Helen smiling.

"There's a reward out for your discovery—five thousand dollars, no less."

She laughed and turned again to the stove. But the men watched her admiringly for a moment, and then Anderson asked: "Been up here long, Stane?"

Stane gave him an approximate date, and explained the situation by recounting his accident. The other nodded sympathetically. "You were lucky to have Miss Yardley with you. I had a narrow shave myself this morning. Just as I was starting from my camp, a tree that two minutes before looked as stable as a pyramid, collapsed. It caught me on the shoulder and knocked me flying. Lucky thing I fell clear: but it gave me a nasty jar, and my left arm is a little out of action, with the soreness. I oughtn't to have taken the trail this morning, and wouldn't only if I'm in a tremendous hurry—a running quarry you know."

"Who is it?" asked Stane.

"A breed, wanted for murder. He's been running for months, making this way and there's an idea that he's sought sanctuary with his mother's tribe at the top end of this lake. 'Ab, then there is an encampment up here."

"Yes. Didn't you know?"

Stane gave an account of the mysterious visit of the previous night and of the stranger they had seen in the wood that morning and the policeman listened carefully.

"The girl's a puzzle," he said, "but the stranger may be my man. He knows his life is forfeit, and he's ripe for any sort of crime. I guess I'll move on after him when I've had a rest."

"Oh the likenesses were there, right enough," interrupted Stane, "and I certainly had been in Harcroft's rooms, alone, and I suppose in company with his check book. Also I had lost rather a pot of money on the boat race, and I am bound to admit all the other incriminating circumstances."

"Yes, but you don't know everything. Long after you—er went down, Jarlock, who was in our set, told me something about Ainley."

"What was that?" asked Stane quickly.

"Well, it was that just at that time, Ainley was broke and borrowing money right and left, and that he had forged Jarlock's name to a bill. Jarlock became aware of the fact through the bill being presented to him for payment, and he tackled Ainley about the business. Ainley owned

Coolidge Favors
Shift Of Dry Bureau
From Treasury Dept.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Coolidge stands committed to the plan of transferring the prohibition enforcement unit from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice as contemplated in the proposal of the Congressional Joint Committee on the reorganization of the government departments.

This statement of the President's position was set forth at a White House today after Representative Cramton, Republican, Michigan, one of the prohibition leaders in the House, had discussed with Mr. Coolidge a proposal that the prohibition unit remain in the Treasury Department but be elevated to the status of a bureau co-ordinate with the Internal Revenue Bureau under which it now operates.

POLICY IS CRITICIZED
CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 1.—A telegram urging "the administration to discontinue the policy of indecision which is alienating the European nations and bewildering our citizens," was sent to President Coolidge by the executive committee of the Women's Council for Prevention of War, of Cleveland today.

WHY NOT?

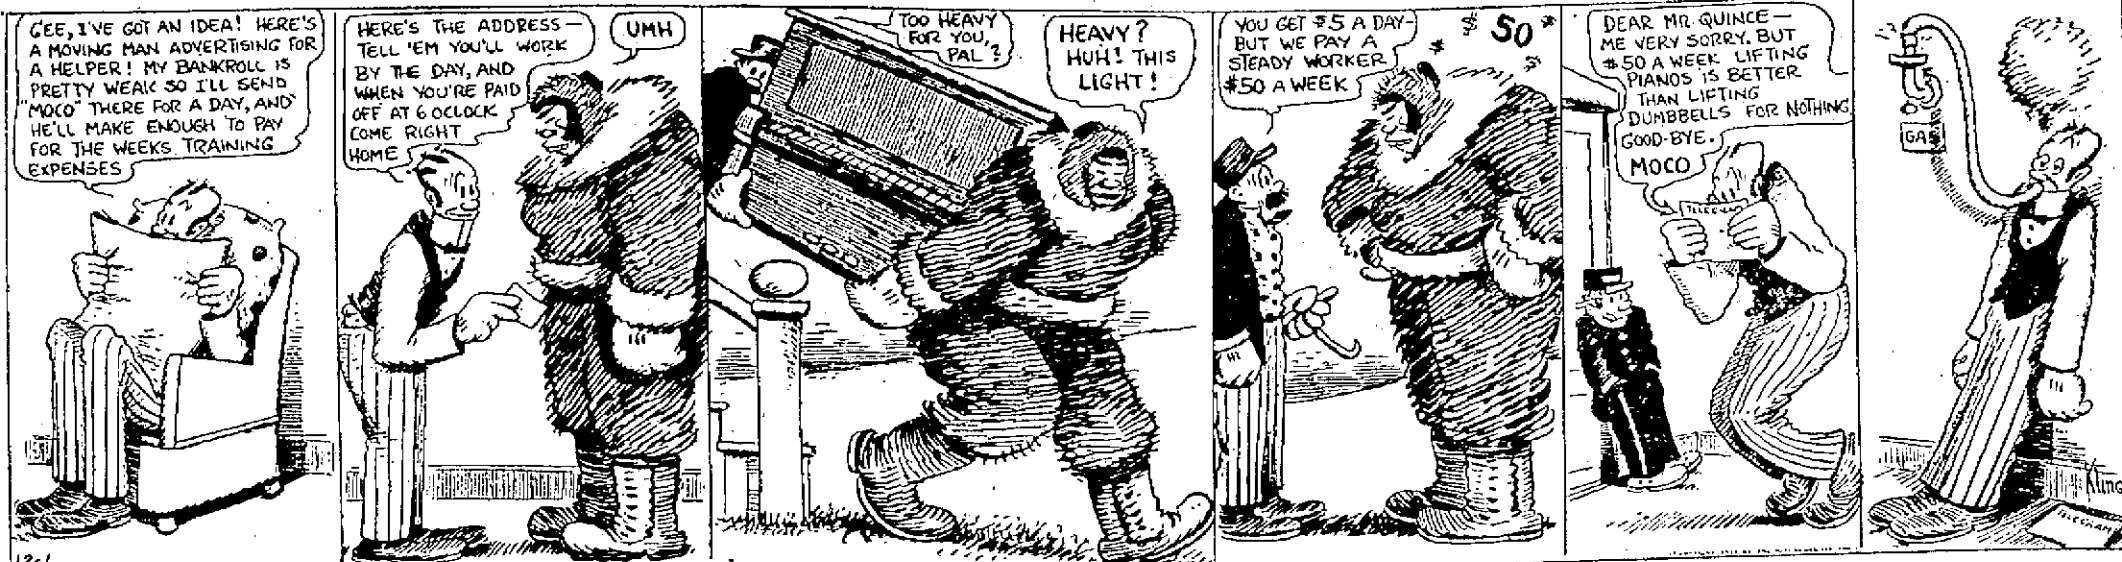

Take time by the forelock and do a little figuring right now about your Xmas presents? Why not make this a practical Xmas and give shoes or slippers? A dandy pair of Comfy House Slippers or a pair of party or dress shoes would be a present to be remembered for a year to come. Why not find out the proper size and make your selections now while the stock is complete rather than rush at the last minute only to find your sizes have been sold? Shoes and Slippers for the entire family.

Industrial And Oil Groups Most Active

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—A feature of the market on New York curb exchange this week was the moderate response made in the petroleum group to the significant changes that have occurred in the oil industry. The average price of the current prices in several fields and a further decrease in output, including the heavy falling off in the Powell field, did not receive the de-consideration when these developments suddenly merged and it was assumed in circles making a study of conditions that the changes must have a far more substantial effect than that which was shown in price movements and trading during the week.					three points, however. New York advances Friday. New York transit was a weak feature. In early trading falling six points. Independent Oil stocks also declined early advances.					More important movements, however, were noted in the industrial group. ### Trying to Raise Sunken Barge

An effort is being made to raise a barge loaded with pig iron which was sunk in the Ohio river at Walker's Landing, eight miles below Portsmouth, a week ago. The barge, loaded with iron, was being towed by Big Towboat, Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Beers, former residents of Portsmouth, are the sponsors.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Oldtown M. Church on the West Side, and the Missionary Society of the Oldtown M. Church on the East Side, are the sponsors.

sunk when it struck an obstruction in the stream and punctured two water-tight compartments.

Captain J. F. Ellison, adjuster for an insurance company, is here supervising the work of raising the barge, and Diver Tom McGuffin, of Point Pleasant, is assisting in the work.

BREAKING RECORDS in practice has become the favorite pastime of Miss Mildred Harrocks, 21-year-old senior at the University of Chicago. She hurls a mean discus, her best performance being 99 feet 8 inches, as opposed to the official record of 98 feet 2 inches. And she is climbing toward records in other track events.

ALL SET. This is Anita Pollitzer, secretary of the National Women's Party, who has just returned to Washington from Kansas, where she obtained Congressman Anthony's pledge to introduce the equal rights amendment in the new Congress.

OUT OF A JOB. King George of Greece, shown above, has been told to take a vacation until the people vote and decide whom they want at the head of their government.

FAMILIAR SCENE along China's waterfronts. Chinese junks and other craft are shown here at anchor in the mouth of the China River. The "heathen Chinese" still uses the picturesque type of craft that was used by his forefathers centuries ago.

LAUGH AT SMOKE. The District of Columbia fire department may adopt gas masks to be used by firemen in entering smoke-filled buildings. Photo shows a demonstration by firemen at the U. S. Bureau of Standards in Washington.

CLEAN HANDS are important to health. That's why these public school children of Mansfield, O., have to undergo a daily inspection. The young man giving his classmates the once-over is the health inspector of his class. And he knows his job.

SOME SMOKE! Down in the Philippine Islands they smoke 'em strong. Judging from the expression on this lad's face, he is in doubt whether he ought to finish the El Ropo he's puffing. It's powerful enough to pick him up and walk away with him.

NEW IDEA in bicycles. It's German, of course, because the Germans are always inventing freak bikes. This one is especially adapted for mountain roads. It is propelled by means of shuttle-like foot power instead of the usual pedals and chain.

DELICATE WORK. Photo shows Mrs. F. Schmitt, working in her studio, painting grasses for the Farmers' Bulletin published by the government. Her work is so delicate she paints by microscope.

BRING ON your fancy two teams! This hardy outfit from Lowery Post, American Legion, in Lawton, Okla., uses burros instead of ponies for mounts. Crowds of several thousands have watched the Legionnaires play.

SEVEN WILD GEESSE were bagged by this successful Nimrod in the marshes just one hour away from San Antonio, Tex. Texans think they have the finest shooting in the country, and this one offers proof that game is plentiful.

FIGHTING "ROBBIE" FRENCH (in front) is captain of the freshman girls' soccer team at Temple University, Philadelphia. Under her leadership the team has developed a scrappy spirit and so far has more than held its own with other Quaker City teams.

GENIUS or prodigy, call him what you will. Shura Cherkassky, shown here, is 11 years of age and is a noted piano player. He is making his second American concert tour.

BRUIN is a good-natured fellow, else he'd slap the whole crowd down with one sweep of his south paw. He is a familiar figure, with his zany master, in the streets of Essen, Germany.

TRAPEZE STAR. Lillian Litzel is shown here in an unusual pose. The American public is used to seeing her aloft under the circus tent, for Lillian is the last word among aerialists. She should be, for her mother was one before her, in Prague, and Lillian was born, so to speak, in the circus.

CURTAIN FALLS ON FOOTBALL SEASON; LAST GAMES TODAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—College football for the season of 1923 comes to a definite close today in the playing of the Catholic college annuals, Boston college against Holy Cross, at Boston, and Georgetown against Fordham. The Boston college eleven boasts one of the best defensive records in the east, having been scored upon but once.

Holy Cross ranks close to Boston college in defensive prowess; for the six points scored by Fordham in a game which Holy Cross won, 23 to 7, mark the only occasions when the Purple's goal line has been crossed this year.

Washington is to witness one of the best games of the year in the struggle between the Quincey Marines and the Third Army Corps of Baltimore.

Anxious to Play Notre Dame

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press.) Coach Knute Rockne, whose football eleven is sought as an opponent by Wisconsin and many others for next year, here today during the Western Conference athletic meeting, said he did not know whether a game with Wisconsin could be arranged. Next year, he said, Notre Dame which played ten games this season, would limit its schedule to eight games.
